4. Questions for Council and Administration

   Commission will decide what questions to send to whom about items to be reviewed. The questions will be designed to assist in answering what seems to be working and what may need to be improved. The questions also provide a foundation for potential follow-up interviews.

5. Additional Information on Forms of Government

   The Commission may want to interview other experts or officials from the same or other forms of government. For example, Shaker Heights has a hybrid form of the Council-Mayor system. The Mayor and Chief Administrative Officer could be requested to present to a Committee meeting. A Mayor from a similar community could be invited to present as well as a City Manager. A representative from the Ohio City Management Association could also be invited to speak.

The International City/County Management Association (ICMA) has excellent materials on forms of government on its website. https://icma.org/

6. Questions about Form of Government

Commission members can ask questions about the materials they received and what additional materials they would like to have. They may then want to recheck the questions they put together.
